CASTOR OIL IS A DIFFERENT THING, NOW.
That is, The Taste and Odor Have Been Removed.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil Is The Best Laxative in 3,000 Years.

Spencer Kellogg & Sons of Buffalo, oil refiners, have succeeded in taking the offensive taste and smell out of castor oil.

The Kelloggs have done what chemists have tried to do and failed for 2,000 years.

Doctors recommend castor oil as the simplest, safest and best laxative. Every household will use it oftener, now that it is tasteless.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is pure, clear, refined castor oil, and so entirely without taste that children take it easily.

This perfect laxative is now on sale in all drug stores. Order Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil by name, to distinguish it from various mixed and flavored castor oils, which are not tasteless. The trade mark is an oval label—a green castor leaf bearing the signature—Kellogg's. 25c and 50c sizes.

It was voted to hold a whist and sale, and the members present formed themselves into committees, others to be added later.

SERVE THE PUBLIC

MR. DEALER

When a reader of a live daily newspaper like The Bulletin picks up his favorite paper and sees a nationally made article advertised, his first thought is where can he get it.

Mr. Dealer, that's your cue!

Tell him you have the goods. Mention the fact in your advertisement.

Show them in your windows. Let the manufacturer know that you appreciate his efforts to make a market for you.

Serve the public while public interest is aroused.

And by such service you serve yourself—first in immediate sales, and second by getting the friendship of the manufacturer who may have other good things to throw your way.

WAITING TO GET INTO THE MAN HATTAN

MAKING RECORD IN FIRE SALES

Thousands Throng the Manhattan Store in the Last Two Days—Crowd of Customers Satisfactorily Taken Care of by Force of Six Policemen and 85 Clerks.

For two days now S. Kronig & Son at the Manhattan have been conducting a fire sale that has been attended by crowds that have run into the thousands on both Saturday and Monday, said Mr. Samuel Kronig, senior member of the firm, on Monday evening, and it is his intention, he said, to finish the sale through as fast as possible and make a complete cleanup of the big stock which was on hand in anticipation of a busy fall and winter season, which had not yet fairly begun when the fire came upon them on the evening of a week ago Friday. When the store reopened again for regular business it will be with everything completely new, stock and fixtures alike.

With their big stock of goods to dispose of to the satisfaction both of the firm and the big crowd of patrons who could be expected when the doors opened for the sale on Saturday morning, it was a problem that required expert handling to bring it off satisfactorily, but patrons who attended the sale on Saturday and Monday admitted that the Manhattan proprietors had shown they knew how to handle the crowd. Evidently believing that it would be the early birds who would capture the prizes in bargains, there was an eager waiting crowd on hand at the first opening hour on Saturday morning, and also throughout the day, when the doors were opened, there were new detachments of prospective buyers to enter the store by the front door to take the places of those who were being let out of the store by the rear door.

Six policemen on hand on Saturday at the doors and inside the store rendered valuable aid in handling the crowds and preventing unnecessary pushing and shoving on the part of the sometimes excited customers.

A regular method of letting groups of people in the store was followed, and when inside they were also directed how to pass from one part to another in order to avoid congestion, and finally to arrive at the rear door, from which they made their exit. In order that the night be waited upon with the greatest possible speed, Mr. Kronig has a force of 85 clerks on duty, he said, and a special system of duplicate slips for the cashier and the delivery clerks was in force so that patrons received their goods from the wrapping department on their way out.

MOTION LIST IN COMMON PLEAS COURT

Foreclosure Granted in Annie Levin vs. Samuel Levin and Others.

In New London on Monday afternoon the common pleas court came in for motion list before Judge C. B. Waite.

Pleading in two weeks were ordered in Congdon and Carpenter Co. vs. Isaac and David Fishken.

Judgment of foreclosure was granted in Annie Levin vs. Samuel Levin and others and the limit of redemption was made the third Monday in February with subsequent dates for other creditors.

Additional assignments to those already made were as follows: Dec. 22 at New London—William B. Staples and wife vs. Nicolio Pettrizi, Dec. 15 at Norwich—Charles O. Murphy vs. Lafayette F. Main.

The common pleas court comes in here this morning at 10 o'clock. There is a possibility of a hearing and argument of motion to dissolve the injunction in Raughthian vs. Norwich Nickel & Brass Co.

The case of Mattie T. Chesborough vs. Lloyd Chesborough will reach the jury and the next cases after it are the Imperial Curtain Co. vs. J. Schwartz and Imperial Curtain Co. vs. D. Levinson.

LAUNDRYMAN ARRESTED.

Brought Here from Williamantic Accused of Embezzlement.

Yip Yueng Bong, a Chinese laundryman, was arrested here Monday night and brought to this city in the afternoon by Policeman Frank Henderson. There was a special session of the city court at 7:30 p. m. Monday evening, and Bong was presented on a charge of embezzlement of $600 belonging to a fellow countryman who conducts a laundry on Lower Broadway. It is claimed that Bong secured $600 from the plaintiff in September, 1911 for the purpose of engaging in the dry goods business in China. Since then the plaintiff failed to hear from the accused or the money. Bong was bound over to the higher court under bonds of $1,000 which were provided.

Both legs and an arm were cut off, and his skull crushed. The motorman says the man was lying on the tracks and he could not stop his car in time.

JUDGE GREENE DENIED PETITION FOR RECEIVER.

In Action Brought in Arion Singing Society Matter.

In the superior court here in chambers on Monday morning Judge Gardner Greene denied the motion without prejudice in the matter of a temporary receiver in the matter of the Arion Singing society of Stonington.

The secretary of the society was on the witness stand for a long time. Lawyer Geary and Judge Rathbun made statements to the court as to what they contended for. The latter said his client, Mr. Weimpfheimer, wanted to safeguard the organization from becoming a socialistic organization and to having the funds divided and the property sold.

Mr. Geary said nothing of the kind was intended. He argued that the petitioner is not a member and the society numbers more than 200 and they are ready to pay back to Mr. Weimpfheimer the $1,000 loaned the society.

Mr. Geary assured Judge Greene that he would have the society pass a vote that the funds should not be divided or the society disbanded, and in view of that assurance Judge Greene denied the petition without prejudice and said the matter can come up before the superior court in the regular way.

Prize for Domesticating Heron.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The Academy of Sciences has decided to offer a prize of $2,000 to the person who devises a means for domesticating the heron in order to obtain aigrettes without killing the birds.

Healthy, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

(From The Woman Beautiful.)
A dull, drab, muddy complexion, or an over-red, blotchy, pimply or freckled skin, can be a quite simple, harmless and inexpensive method, be changed to one of flower-like radiance and purity. One ounce of common mercurochrome, sold by druggists generally, will remove the most unsightly complexion in from one to two weeks. By its remarkable absorptive power, the withered, faded or discolored layer of this skin is gradually peeled off, and the skin underneath is gradually flaked off in tiny, almost invisible particles. This is done so gently that the skin is in no way injured, and in fact, convenience, and no trace is left on the skin except that of enhanced beauty. The wax is smeared on like Vaseline before retiring, and removed in the morning with warm water.

If the skin be wrinkled or saggy, a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered ascorbic acid in 1 pt. witch hazel will be found most effective. Following both astringent and tonic properties, this tightens the skin and braces up its supporting muscles.

ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE GREETED SODALITY SONGLAND

Presented with Fine Scenic and Musical Effects in Olympic Hall.

An enthusiastic audience of 800 people who filled every seat at Olympic hall and also occupied standing room on Monday evening gave almost continuous applause to the programme presented by St. Joseph's Sodality in their one act musical comedy entitled A Trip to Songland. It was given under the direction of James F. Drew and gained for director and performers new plaudits to add to those which they have won in former musical productions.

The stage picture arranged was a particularly pretty one and presented the after deck of the steam yacht Sodality, with the members of the chorus appearing in dark coats, white flannel trousers and straw hats, the sailors were given with spirit and tunefulness sailor suits, and the captain in a military suit.

The following were the characters: Captain—M. J. Coscoran. Sailors—W. H. Slattery, W. Carberry, J. Desmond, J. Slattery. Two Jolly Tars—W. B. Hynds, A. F. Campbell.

Soloists—C. Lyons, J. J. Sullivan, E. Calkins, W. F. Goodfellow, C. L. Tucker.

Passengers on Board Yacht—D. B. Connelly, T. Brennan, J. Cunningham, F. Healy, C. Riddon, J. McCormick, G. Power, T. Leahy, H. Condon, J. Burke, J. Walsh, J. Stanley, W. Murphy.

The bright local hits upon popular and well known members of the organization were brought out in effective manner between Captain Coscoran and the sailors—W. H. Slattery, W. Carberry, J. A. Desmond and J. Slattery—and the chorus numbers and the solos were given with spirit and tunefulness, accompanied by the Cadillac orchestra, directed by Mr. Drew.

The opening chorus was Sailing Down the River on the Alabama, and was followed by these solo numbers: Well rendered and encoored for extra verses throughout: What Dye Mean You Lost Yer Dog? W. H. Slattery; I'm on the Jury, A. Desmond; There's a Girl in the Heart of Maryland, J. J. Sullivan; Keep on Walking, W. Carberry; There's a Wireless Station Down Here, E. Calkins; My Darling, J. Slattery; At the Gate of the Palace of Dreams, W. F. Goodfellow; He'd Have to Get Under Get Out and Get Under, A. F. Campbell; Under the Leaves and My Moving Picture Girl, C. L. Tucker of Hartford; How Long Have You Been Married, W. B. Hynds.

The finale by the chorus was Based on a Grand Old Game, with Salvation Nell as a solo and chorus number with the two comedians, A. F. Campbell and W. B. Hynds as the Salvation Army leader and Salvation Nell respectively, and the sailors as the Salvation Army band. The comedians made a hit in this number and also in their previous appearance in special costumes as two jolly tars.

Among the boxholders was a party of the clergy from St. Patrick's and St. Mary's parishes which included Rev. J. H. Broderick, J. H. Fitzmaurice, T. A. Grumbly, M. P. Galvin, W. H. Kennedy, and also Rev. W. A. Keefe of Plainfield.

The avenue staff for the evening comprised: Musical director, James F. Drew; electrical effects, John Carney; chief usher, Daniel J. Mullen; box office, T. J. Kelley, and the scenery was by J. W. Malbet, the costumes from Boston and the electrical effects from Hartford.
